

Quest Book Group

Since the fall of 2004, the Interfaith Center has hosted Quest, a monthly interfaith book group. Each month, Quest features a book about a particular religious tradition, an autobiography, or other work that gives insight into matters of faith. Each book discussion is led by a member of a different faith community. Engaging and challenging, participants bring their own questions and perspectives that contribute to the dynamic nature of the group. The group meets once a month during the year at Borders Books in Chestnut Hill.
